Over a century ago, in the rolling hills of the Missouri Ozarks, a tradition was born... a tradition of milling the finest whole grains from the nation's heartland.

Today, as science uncovers more and more about the connection between nutrition and health, we are rediscovering how whole grains are an important part of a healthy diet. That's why we're glad we have always offered foods to make eating whole grains easy and enjoyable for your customer.

Whether they're a committed whole grain connoisseur, or they're just trying out whole grain eating for the first time, we think there is something for everyone in this catalog. Old fashioned flours and mixes for the bakers among us; gluten free flours and mixes for those sensitive to wheat or gluten; plus many kinds of wholesome cereals, pasta and whole grain sides, both whole wheat and gluten free, that anyone can enjoy.

Hodgson Mill Mercantile & Education Center, 1001 Ford Avenue, Effingham, Illinois 62401

Hodgson Mill Mercantile & Education Center is located at the intersection of Interstates 57 & 70 at Exit 160 in Effingham, Illinois. The hours are Mon-Fri 9-5, Sat 9-3 and closed on Sunday.

This structure, based on the original Hodgson Water Mill in southern Missouri, features our extensive line of Hodgson Mill products available together, as well as local products; coffee, jams, honey, syrup, pottery, baskets and more. Cooking classes are offered in the beautiful Education Center. It also houses the Sales and Marketing offices on the ground floor. Come visit us soon!

What Do Our Certifications Mean To You?

Why are products labeled Non-GMO?

GMO or Genetically Modified Organisms, are plants or animals created through genetic engineering, merging DNA from different species, creating combinations of plant, animal, bacterial and viral genes that may not occur in nature or in traditional crossbreeding. Over 80% of all GMOs grown are engineered for herbicide tolerance leading to greater independence on chemicals. We believe consumers deserve to know as much as possible about the food their families eat. We have over 100 products verified.

What does Certified Organic really mean?

"Certified" means that the food has been grown and handled according to strict organic standards, which are enforced by independent third-party state or private organizations. Certification includes independent inspections of processing facilities, detailed record keeping and periodic testing of soil, water and produce to ensure that growers and processors are meeting the standards of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), National Organic Program (NOP) or other third party standards. Certified thru Oregon Tilth.

Certified Kosher by the Orthodox Union.

Certified Kosher by the Orthodox Union, contains dairy.

100% Peanut Free Facility!

Hodgson Mill promises you wholesome, delicious, quality products from America's Heartland.

Hodgson Mill is a family owned company expertly milling grain since 1882.

Why is Gluten a Problem for Some People?

An allergy to wheat, a sensitivity to the gluten protein, or Celiac Disease, may make it necessary for people to completely avoid eating gluten-containing grains like wheat, rye, barley, and triticale. Celiac Disease is a hereditary autoimmune disorder. When someone with Celiac disease eats any gluten, their body mounts an immune response which damages the small intestine, which can cause stomach pain or discomfort, nutrient malabsorption, and weight loss.

Hodgson Mill has over 50 high quality Gluten Free products, carefully produced to ensure taste and safety. Each is Certified Gluten Free by a reputable third-party organization. We are currently certified under the National Celiac Association and we are in the process of changing to the Gluten Free Certification Organization. Both certifications require our products to be far under the legal FDA limit of 20ppm (parts per million) gluten in our products.

Find Healthy Choices with the Whole Grain Stamp

The Whole Grains Council helps consumers find whole grain foods and understand their health benefits. Health experts advise everyone that grains are a healthy necessity in every diet, and that it's important to make at least half the grains we eat "whole grains." Find healthy choices fast by choosing products that have the Whole Grain stamp.

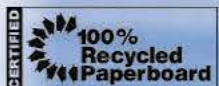

What does BRC Stand for?

BRC stands for British Retail Consortium, an organization providing Global Standards through a leading safety and quality certification program. The Standards guarantee the quality, safety and operational criteria and ensure that manufacturers fulfill legal obligations and provide protection for the end consumer. BRC Global Standards are now often a fundamental requirement of leading retailers. Hodgson Mill holds an AA Rating by the BRC.

Commitment to sustainability has been a part of Hodgson Mill from the beginning. From the original water powered mill to the latest technology in wind turbines and solar arrays, Hodgson Mill has always relied on nature to provide a clean, renewable source of energy. Our commitment doesn't stop at our investment in renewable energy. We package our products using recycled material, and in turn, recycle 99.8% of our waste. Having our roots in farming and milling has taught us the importance of preserving the environment for generations to come.

Ancient Grain Medley

Discover a delicious combination of nutritious Ancient Grains in these easy-to-make sides! Ready in about 20 minutes – just add water, heat, and serve – and you have the perfect complement to your home-cooked meal.

KAMUT® Khorasan Wheat is a heritage wheat grown organically, and it lends a naturally rich, buttery flavor and fluffy texture to the pilaf.

Teff is the world's tiniest grain: it is packed with minerals, and adds a lightly tangy flavor.

Sorghum is an ancient grain originating from Africa, but now grown widely in the United States. It is a drought-resistant, nutritious grain that feeds millions of people around the world. Americans are just discovering its possibilities beyond familiar sweet 'sorghum syrup.'

Flax, Chia & YOU

Flax is grown for its oil and used as a nutritional supplement.

Fact on Flax Seed

If you eat whole flax seeds, your body may not be getting all the benefits. Milling it makes it easier for your body to reap all of flax's nutrients. Our flax seed goes through a special cold-milled grinding process so that it never rises above room temperature, meaning it's more nutritious and shelf-stable.

Flax Seed is one of the richest plant-based sources of an Omega-3 oil called ALA, or alpha-linolenic acid – an essential fatty acid your body needs. The FDA states: Diets rich in whole grain foods and other plant foods and low in total fat, saturated fat and cholesterol may reduce the risk of heart disease and some cancers. These seeds are tiny powerhouses!

Suggested Uses & Tips For Milled Flax Seed

- Add a few tablespoons in breads, pancakes, muffins or cookies.
- Add to your favorite smoothie or health shake.
- Substitute for flour in baked goods – up to 20-25% of total flour.
- Sprinkle over breakfast cereals (hot or cold) or yogurt.
- Healthy Oil Substitute: for every 1/3 cup of oil in a baked goods recipe, use 1 cup of milled flax. (NOTE: Baked goods with flax instead of oil may brown more rapidly, so adjust time/temperature.)
- Egg substitute: Mix 1 Tbsp. milled flax with 3 Tbsp. water, and let sit for 1-2 minutes. Use as you would an egg in baked goods like pancakes, muffins and cookies. (May change texture slightly.)

Cinnamon Oat Bran Muffins

- 1 cup low fat buttermilk
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 Tbsp. vegetable oil
- 1-1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 4 large egg whites, whipped until soft peaks form
- 1 pkg. (16 oz.) Hodgson Mill Oat Bran Hot Cereal
- 1/4 cup Hodgson Mill Milled Flax Seed

Preheat oven to 400°F. Spray 12 cup muffin tin with nonstick cooking spray. Blend buttermilk with baking powder, salt, oil, cinnamon, brown sugar and water. Allow to cure 3 minutes until buttermilk becomes bubbly. Fold buttermilk mixture into whipped egg whites. Fold oat bran cereal and flax seed into the mixture until just blended. Divide mixture among muffin cups. Bake 20 minutes until lightly browned and firm to touch. Allow muffins to cool for 5 minutes before removing from tins.

Sausage Balls

- 1/2 pound bulk sausage, uncooked
- 1 cup (4 oz.) sharp cheese, shredded
- 1/2 cup Hodgson Mill Insta-Bake Baking Mix

Preheat oven to 325°F. Combine sausage and cheese in a bowl; blend well. Add Insta-Bake Mix and blend again. Roll mixture into 1-inch balls. Place on ungreased baking sheet in place in oven and bake 25-30 minutes, or until sausage is browned. Serve hot or at room temperature.

Yield: Makes 30 balls.

GLUTEN FREE Baking Mixes

Hodgson Mill is committed to making Gluten Freedom easy and delicious. We blend premium quality ingredients from a variety of naturally gluten free whole grains – brown rice, amaranth, millet, sorghum and corn – so gluten free customers can enjoy the ease of baking mixes as well as the benefits of whole grains.

We know gluten is a serious problem for some people. We produce our products on dedicated or carefully controlled equipment and test them with an ELISA Gluten Assay test to ensure our products are safe for our gluten free consumers. Each product is Certified Gluten Free by a reputable third-party organization. We are certified under the National Celiac Association and are in the process of changing to the Gluten Free Certification Organization. Both certifications help us guarantee that our products are far under the legal FDA limit of 20ppm (parts per million) gluten.

Celiac Disease is hereditary and affects approximately 1 in 100 people worldwide. Those affected cannot digest gluten, a protein found in wheat, rye and barley. It causes damage to their small intestine, which in turn prevents their body from absorbing nutrients. The only treatment for Celiac Disease is the complete avoidance of gluten.

Wheat flour can be used on its own for baking, but most gluten free flours have different properties, and only by combining them do they behave more like wheat flour. Try these blends, or make your own! More Gluten Free Flours on page 19.

Xanthan Gum

What is Xanthan Gum? It's a 'binder' used in gluten free baking to mimic gluten's sticky properties in a recipe. You usually only need a tiny amount to add to a flour blend, so each box contains 21 airtight 1-Tbsp. packets. They'll remain perfectly fresh until you need them!

Fresh Egg Noodles

- 2-1/3 cups Hodgson Mill Premium Pasta Flour
- 2 fresh eggs, beaten lightly
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. olive oil or vegetable oil
- 1/3 cup warm water

Sift pasta flour onto clean work surface or into large bowl. Make a well in center of flour and pour 2 lightly beaten eggs into well. Add salt and oil. Mixing ingredients with a fork, gradually add the warm water until the dough is soft enough to handle. If dough is too dry, slowly add a little more warm water, drop by drop. If dough is too wet, add more pasta flour. Knead until dough can be formed into a soft, workable ball, about 10 minutes. Yield: 8 ounces.

See instructions below for preparing and cooking your dough.

Resting, Rolling, Cutting and Cooking

Cover kneaded dough with plastic wrap and place in refrigerator for at least 1 hour. Divide dough into 3 pieces and roll each into an 1/8-inch thick sheet. Let rest 5 minutes. Cut into noodles with sharp knife or press through a manual pasta machine. Dry on rack for at least 1 hour before cooking. Drop into boiling salted water and start testing pasta as soon as the water returns to a boil. Do not overcook. When the pasta is al dente, drain, sauce and serve.

We know gluten is a serious problem for some people. We produce our products on dedicated or carefully controlled equipment and test them with an ELISA Gluten Assay test to ensure our products are safe for our gluten free consumers. Each product is Certified Gluten Free by a reputable third-party organization. We are certified under the National Celiac Association and are in the process of changing to the Gluten Free Certification Organization. Both certifications help us guarantee that our products are far under the legal FDA limit of 20ppm (parts per million) gluten.
